I have many wonderful memories from KGC. But I recall the first time I played golf at KGC in January 2017. It was a mixture of excitement and fear of the unknown. You know, many senior officers play in KGC, and I was nervous about who I'd play with, how I'd do, and other concerns. I was hesitantly approaching the front 9 tee and happily met one of my favourite senior officers.

Leading with PASSION

Brigadier General Mahbubus Samad Chowdhury has three decades of experience of serving the Bangladesh Army in various capacities at home and abroad. Now serving as a director of Infantry, Bangladesh Army, Chowdhury also holds the position of Secretary General of Bangladesh Golf Federation and Club Captain at Kurmitola Golf Club. An avid golfer and keen follower of the game, Mr Chowdhury is striving to improve the condition of the ball boys and caddies at the club while also ensuring best opportunities and facilities are provided to the professional golfers. In this interview with TheGolfHouse, he speaks about these issues and his affiliation with golf.

Brig Gen Mahbubus Samad Chowdhury

Secretary General of Bangladesh Golf Federation

How is BGF patronizing professional golfers?
BGF tries to support pro golfers in various ways, including giving facilities to play regularly, special mentoring before international competitions, facilitate sponsorships, financial assistance, and so on. In addition, BGF provides guidance and advises to the BPGA to do more pro-tournaments and arranging sponsors for individual professional golfers.

What is your advice to pro-golfers?
Pro-golfers should try to participate in as many international tournaments as possible, especially in India, Thailand, Nepal, Malaysia, Vietnam and other South and South-East Asian countries. That's how they can improve their game and ranking.

Last year, unfortunately, the Asian Tour didn't take place in Bangladesh. What about this year, since BGF is the Bangladeshi ambassador of the Asian Tour?
Yes, the Asian Tour did not take place last year for a variety of reasons, the most notable of which were the national parliamentary elections and the lack of sponsors. This year, we've already contacted some potential sponsors and are hoping to organize the Asian Tour at the end of this year.

> Golf is a game of passion, a challenge to oneself, and a social sport in which one may live a quality life in a peaceful setting while relieving stress.

As the club captain of KGC, could you brief us about the facilities of this prestigious club and your massage to its regular golfers?
KGC is the only international standard golf club in our country. Apart from playing golf, it has many associated facilities like swimming pool, sauna, gym, restaurants and bar, etc. At times, we struggle to manage the pressure of golfers, especially during peak season. I would request all respectable golfers to maintain the pace of play so that maximum golfers can play with ease and comfort.

Do you have any special memories related to this club?
I have many wonderful memories from KGC. But I recall the first time I played golf at KGC in January 2017. It was a mixture of excitement and fear of the unknown. You know, many senior officers play in KGC, and I was nervous about who I'd play with, how I'd do, and other concerns. I was hesitantly approaching the front 9 tee and happily met one of my favourite senior officers. As I described my situation, he took me on his flight, and we had a great time playing while also cherishing our old memories.

Caddies are the key for a golf club. How does KGC support them along with ball boys and other staff?
KGC has over 450 registered caddies and ball boys. This is a lot for any golf club to manage. However, we understand their financial situation and always try to help them in any way we can. We recently raised their monthly fees. In the previous Eid al Fitr, we provided them with special remuneration and an Eid package of food. There is a welfare fund for them, and we provide monetary support from it as and when required. Our members are also helping our caddies which are much appreciated contribution by our fellow KGC members.

In person, How did you get associated with golf?
I knew nothing about golf before 2009. While I was in a United Nations mission in Congo, one of my senior colleagues gave me a book called "Learn Golf in a Weekend". He also suggested I watch some golf clips on YouTube. The beginning of learning was difficult. However, I gradually developed an interest and eventually purchased a golf set from Entebbe, Uganda. There was no golf course there. So I started by practicing chipping and pitching in a small field. When I returned to Bangladesh from the UN mission and was posted to Sylhet Cantonment, there was no proper golf course there either. However, I was fortunate to find that senior colleague in the same cantonment, and we used to play at SI&T's golf course. Later, when I was posted to Cumilla cantonment in 2012, I became an avid golfer and won a number of prizes.

What is your golfing routine and who are your favourite golfers?
I am a regular golfer at Kurmitola Golf Club (KGC). I try to play four to five days a week, but I only have time in the afternoons. And Tiger Woods my favourite golfer, like so many others, has always inspired me. Rory Mcilroy, Jason Day, and Justin Rose are also among my favourite players.

Samad is aiming for a perfect line for a great putt

> I BELIEVE THAT ONE SHOULD BEGIN LEARNING GOLF IN HIS OR HER 30'S, PREFERABLY WITH SPOUSE AND CHILDREN.

Your message to those who are not playing golf.

I always encourage my colleagues and friends to play golf. In certain circumstances, I've been successful. I try to organize informal golf tournaments on weekends for my friends and welcome non-golfers to watch and be encouraged to play. I believe that one should begin learning golf in his or her 30s, preferably with spouse and children. Golf is a game of passion, a challenge to oneself, and a social sport in which one may live a quality life in a peaceful setting while relieving stress.

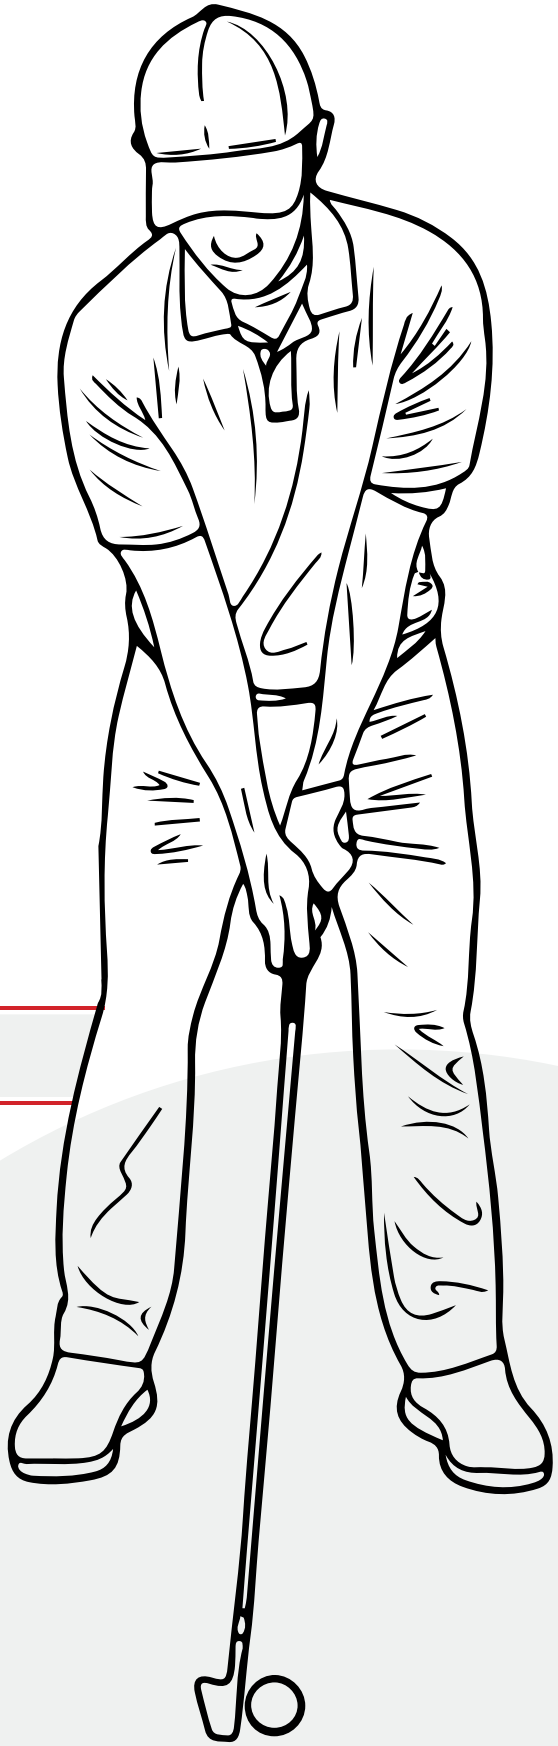
STRIKE YOUR IRON SOLIDLY!

Most golfers don't compress the ball and strike it well with their irons. This is mainly because they are trying to hit the ball UP and LIFT the ball. In reality we want to be hitting the ball down and cover it.

Hitting solid and consistent iron shots is essential for scoring well in golf. Therefore, if your iron shot is not solid, it can quickly lead to high scores. Let me show you how to strike your iron solidly.

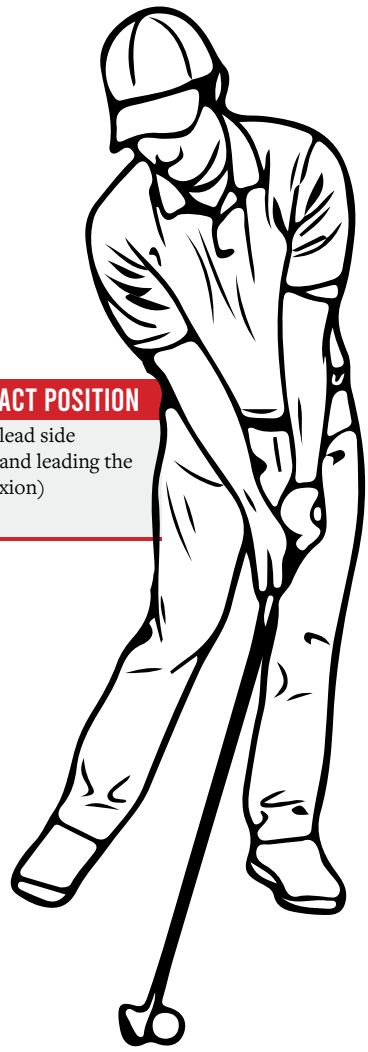


SET UP POSITION

The key to get good impact with creating good divot by distributing the body weight 50/50.

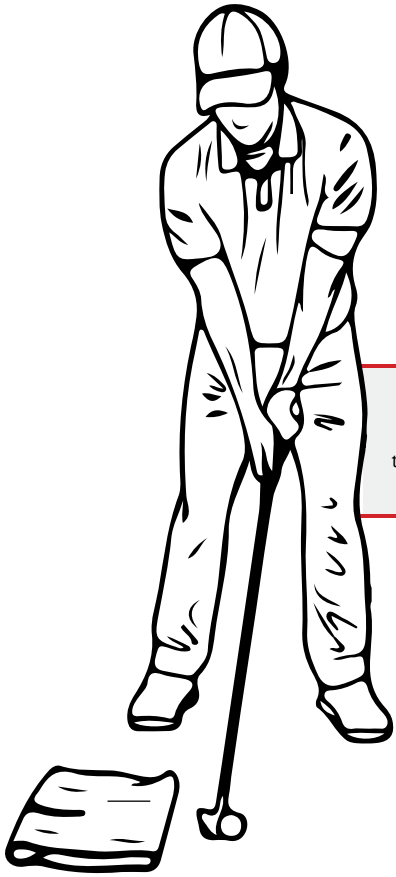
INCORRECT IMPACT POSITION

1. Weight is on the trail side at impact
2. Club is overtaking the hands causing and scoopy action (Lead Wrist Extension)
3. Arms are bending



CORRECT IMPACT POSITION

1. Weight is shifted to the lead side
2. Shaft is angled forward and leading the club head (Lead Wrist Flexion)
3. Arms are extended



CORRECT IMPACT POSITION

Put a towel few inches behind the golf ball. Hit shots without hitting the towel. This ensures our weight is transferred towards the target and maintaining the correct wrist angle.

A BENEVOLENT GOLFER'S Golfing Journey

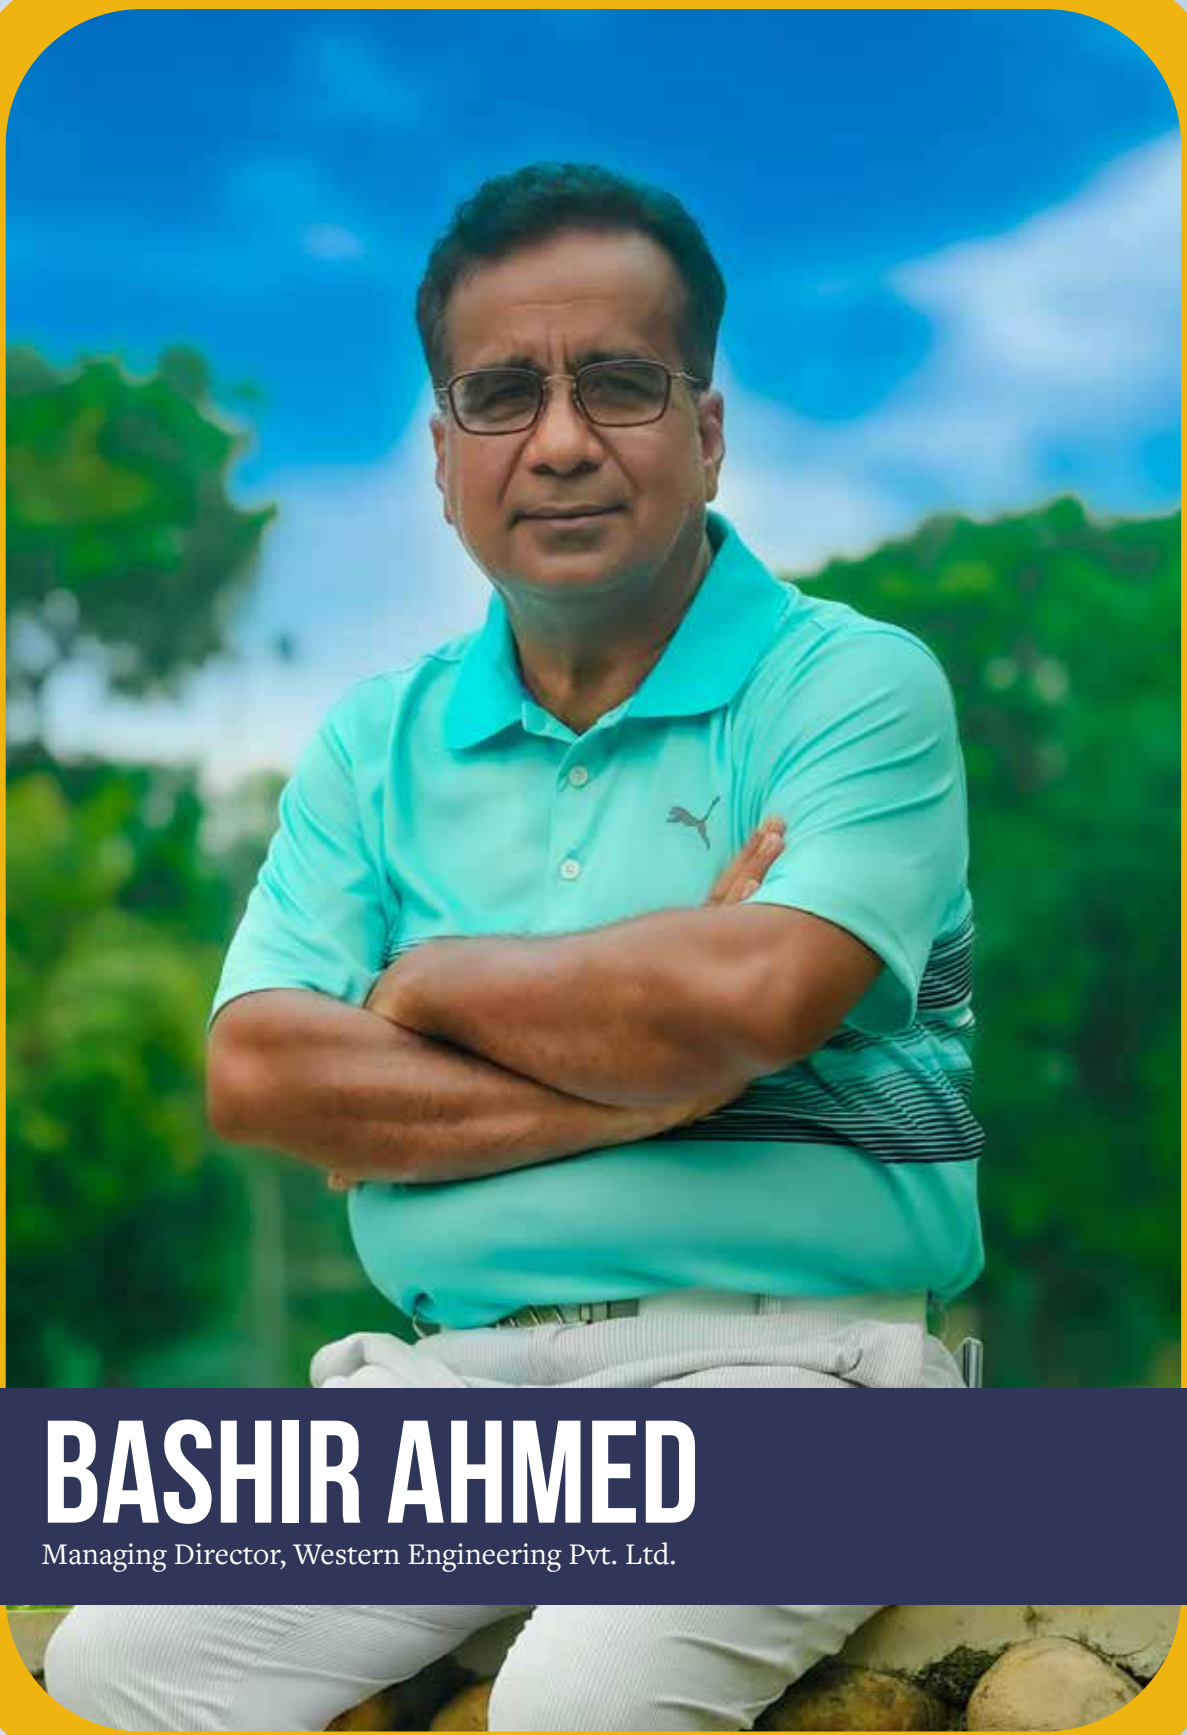
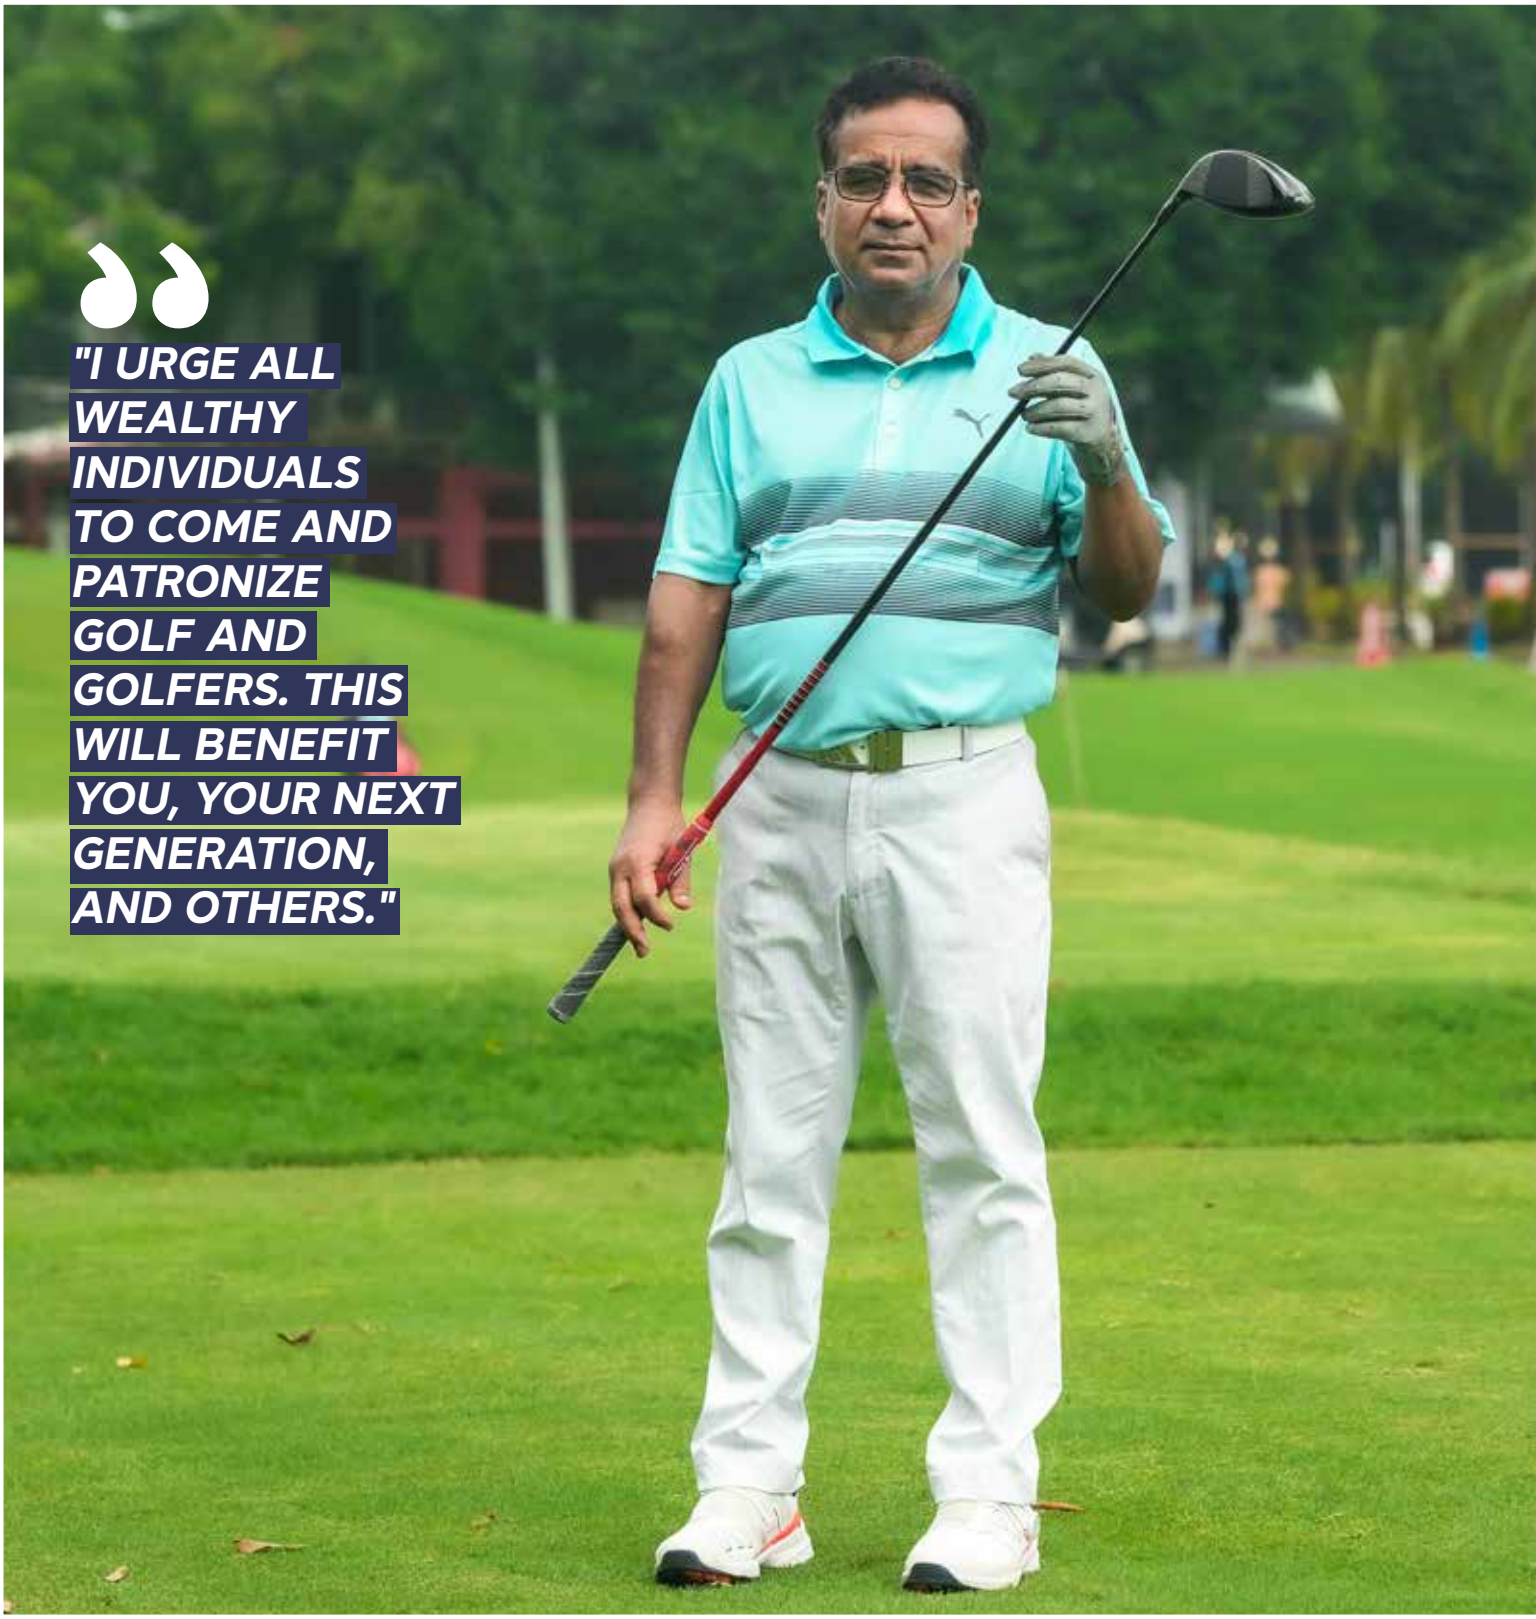
Bashir Ahmed, the managing director of Western Engineering Group, had never been a fan of golf. In fact, like most others looking in, Bashir never understood the charm this ancient sport entailed. But once the businessman gave it a chance, more out of peer pressure than with any genuine interest, golf became an integral part of his life. Now he professes golf among his peers and plays a key role in promoting the sport. In this candid interview with The GolfHouse, Ahmed shares his golfing story.



BASHIR AHMED

Managing Director, Western Engineering Pvt. Ltd.



"I URGE ALL WEALTHY INDIVIDUALS TO COME AND PATRONIZE GOLF AND GOLFERS. THIS WILL BENEFIT YOU, YOUR NEXT GENERATION, AND OTHERS."

How did you come to golf?
Golf was never a sport I fancied, as I didn't realize what fun it was striking a ball across a course. Despite being a member of the Army Golf Club since 2004, I never set foot on a golf course. However, Jahangir Alam, a friend of mine who works at City Bank, once asked me to join the game. So, I started practicing with Mr. Kader at the driving range for six to seven months right before the pandemic. I've been playing golf ever since. Now, I'm so addicted I can't stay away from the golf course.

What is it that you like most about golf?
This sport keeps me away from bad influences. You can enter the sport but cannot get out of it. Golf can be played at any age; it doesn't matter whether you're a child or an elderly person. Even when I'm physically unwell, I try to play golf. I enjoy the morning sunlight, oxygen, and the greenery in golf. Although golf may be a bit expensive, it is like a medicine for golfers. It keeps golfers healthy and builds relationships, which other sports cannot.

You have been involved with golf for a long time. How do you see the development of the game in Bangladesh?
Bangladesh is making economic and infrastructural progress, and golf is making progress alongside. BPGA (Bangladesh Professional Golfers' Association) is doing its best under the leadership of Major General Masud Razzak. We are indebted to the Bangladesh Army for maintaining the course so well. BPGA has elected me with the highest number of votes this time, and I am grateful to the federation members. Many sponsors are now coming forward. BPGA aims to arrange at least 20 tournaments this year, and we are managing sponsors for that. We are also focusing on getting sponsorships for golfers.

As the managing director of Western Engineering Group, how is your company patronizing the game?
Our company sponsors seven or eight tournaments every year. We do this from a societal point of view because we believe golf can keep children away from many bad influences. We will continue to patronize golf.

Can you tell us about your business journey?
We have 18 companies in total, employing around 4,500-5,000 people. I started doing business in 1984 with a very small business, comparable to a grocery store. Now, we offer various products and services in multiple industries.

What life lessons have you learned?
It's good to become a big person, but it's better to become a good person. We should all aspire to be good human beings. I try to focus on my goals and not get distracted by what others are doing.

Are your children involved in your business?

> "Golf in Bangladesh is progressing alongside our economic and infrastructural growth."

I have four children: one is a doctor, and another is an engineer. All of them have graduated from either the USA or Australia, and a couple of them are looking after our businesses.

You are quite renowned for social service. Could you tell us about some of the social activities that you and your company have undertaken?
We have set up educational institutions named after my father and mother, established a hospital to treat people, and built mosques and madrasas.

What is your message to business houses like yours?
I urge all wealthy individuals to come and patronize golf and golfers. This will benefit you, your next generation, and others.

"YOUR OWN NATIONAL CARRIER"

Shafiul Azim, a distinguished leader with a wealth of experience in the aviation industry, was at the forefront of Biman Bangladesh Airlines for a long time, steering the national carrier towards new heights. Known for his strategic vision and commitment to excellence, Mr. Azim played a pivotal role in modernizing the airline and expanding its reach. His efforts have not only enhanced Biman's service quality but also positioned the airline as a key player in promoting tourism and sports, particularly golf, in Bangladesh. Under his leadership, Biman undertook significant initiatives to support and grow the golfing community, reflecting his dedication to both aviation and the development of sports in the country. This interview was taken during his tenure at Biman Bangladesh Airlines Limited.

Biman Bangladesh Airlines and TheGolfHouse signed an MoU recently. What is the motivation behind this MoU, and how is this partnership going to promote golf?

The motivation behind this partnership is to support the growth of golf in Bangladesh, recognizing its increasing popularity. Through this MoU, Biman aims to not only promote golf but also serve the golfing community and sports enthusiasts in general. Biman plans to leverage this partnership to promote golf by offering various benefits to passengers who are either golfers or sports enthusiasts. This may include special travel packages, exclusive offers, and sponsorship of golf events. By doing so, Biman hopes to enhance its brand presence in the sports community, encourage more people to engage in golf, and support the overall development of sports in Bangladesh.

What sort of benefits are passengers going to enjoy through this offer?

Biman is set to offer numerous benefits to its passengers, particularly golfers. These benefits include special travel packages, exclusive offers, and convenient services that make it easier for golfers to transport golf bags for free. Biman aims to enhance the overall travel experience for golfing enthusiasts and support their participation in golf events across different locations. This initiative reflects Biman's commitment to providing exceptional service and promoting golf in Bangladesh.

Will there be an impact of this MoU on golf tourism in Bangladesh?

Golf and tourism are closely related. Golfers often travel extensively and typically prefer air travel. Biman recognizes this strong connection and is eager to collaborate

> Please fly with Biman, your own national carrier. We are committed to supporting all golfers and golf enthusiasts in Bangladesh.

> By promoting both golf and tourism together, Biman aims to attract more golfing enthusiasts to Bangladesh and boost tourism.

with the golfing community to enhance tourism. By promoting both golf and tourism together, Biman aims to attract more golfing enthusiasts to Bangladesh, providing them with convenient travel options and excellent service. This synergy not only supports the growth of golf in the country but also boosts tourism, showcasing Bangladesh as a premier destination for golfers worldwide.

How will this MoU help professional golfers?

Professional golfers often have to bear all their expenses when traveling abroad for competitions. This MoU will significantly impact their game and performance by offering them ticket facilities and other benefits. Through this initiative, Biman will provide professional golfers with complimentary travel and the ability to transport their golf kits free of cost. This support will alleviate their financial burden, allowing them to focus more on their game and performance, and enabling them to participate in international tournaments with greater ease and convenience.

As MD of Biman and a senior government official, what is your view on the future of golf in Bangladesh?

I see a promising future for golf in Bangladesh. The growing golf culture offers numerous benefits, particularly for senior officials and citizens. Golf serves as an excellent meeting place for senior officials, fostering better understanding and networking among them. This sport not only promotes physical well-being but also strengthens community ties. With our continued support and initiatives, I believe golf will become even more popular, contributing to the overall development of sports and enhancing social connections in Bangladesh.
